

Supramolecular Chemistry for Materials and Life Sciences

June 29 – July 3, 2010

Novosibirsk, Russia

First announcement

Dear colleagues,

We are pleased to announce the 1st International Symposium on "Supramolecular Chemistry for Materials and Life Sciences" which will be held in Novosibirsk (Akademgorodok), Russia, from June 29 – July 3, 2010. The Organizing Committee cordially invites you to participate in this Conference to present and discuss novel and exciting aspects of supramolecular chemistry.

The Symposium program will be focused on supramolecular chemistry, life sciences and advanced materials. It will cover a broad area from fundamental investigations to applications.

The main idea of the Symposium is to bring together chemists, biologists and material scientists who work successfully in the application of supramolecular approaches for designing novel functional materials and for the development of life sciences. The Symposium will promote the interdisciplinary development of supramolecular chemistry. Such an international meeting in Novosibirsk will also provide an opportunity for young scientists to interact with international experts in the various fields of supramolecular chemistry.

You are welcome to circulate this announcement to interested members and groups within your institute.

Location

The Symposium will be held in the Exhibition Center of Siberian Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences in Akademgorodok
